

In Kansas certainly has its difficulties, since he is obliged to show a fair trial to both slavery and anti-slavery men, having no courage to face either steadily. In his inaugural address he promised that every man resident of Kansas should have a voice in forming its institutions, and in his Topeka speech, he said distinctly, in so many words:

"My doctrine is this, that in the future, when the country shall be admitted to a vote of the citizens of Kansas, that it shall be submitted to a vote of 'the whole people.' I do not mean those who are now registered under the Territorial laws. I do not mean those residents of Kansas who have a voice in forming its institutions, and in its Topeka speech, he said distinctly, in so many words:

"The Financial Crisis in Cuba.

We published some days ago a notice of the financial crisis in Cuba, brought about by the collapse of several joint stock companies.

The manner in which the crisis was met in this wise. The Government authorized the Spanish Bank to issue notes holding six months to run, and accruing an annual interest of ten per cent, to the amount of six millions of dollars.

In guarantee of these notes the merchants and planters of Havana have given to the bank their individual security for amounts the aggregate of which exceed twelve millions of dollars.

The officers of each convention then made out their draft upon the Territorial Secretary for the pay of members, which were promptly honored by that functionary, so far as the members of the bogus convention were concerned—but when the majority of the delegates holding certificates of election from the proper offices composed of the members of what called the "Republican Convention" presented their scrip they were told by that worthy that "we do not recognize you as delegates," and were refused to pay their draft. The same fate of refusing to recognize will of course be met with by those of several joint stock companies.
